NEWSREADER: Local police are worried those smoking bans inside Geelong pubs and clubs could be behind a recent spate of violent attacks in the city.

Geelong Chief Inspector, Wayne Carson says something needs to be done to stop large numbers gathering on the footpath.

WAYNE CARSON: And we've had an incident already at one of the nightclubs in Moorabool Street where somebody was assaulted as a result of that.

So we've spoken to the licensees and made certain suggestions but I think that's something these licensees will need to take up with the council to discuss some sort of remedy to the problem.
